QUESTION PRESENTED FOR REVIEW

Whether the Supreme Court of Arkansas erred when they failed to review the decision of the Court of Appeals although their decision is arguably in conflict with relevant decisions of that court and other state courts of last resort on the same matters as well as decisions of this court?

INTRODUCTION

Once the inference of negligence created by res ipsa is established, it "will defeat a motion for summary judgment even though the defendant presents evidence tending to establish absence of negligence." Graham, 854 S.W.2d at 801, quoting Schaffner v. Cumberland County Hosp. Inc., 336 S.E.2d 116, 118 (N.C. App. 1985).

Other Court's have held that the doctrine of res ipsa loquitur exists to obviate the need for direct proof of negligence, and allows cases submitted under the doctrine to proceed to the jury even in the absence of direct proof of negligence. See Graham v. Thompson, 854 S.W.2d 797, 799 (Mo. App. W.D. 1993).

Despite this the Arkansas Court of Appeals affirmed the decision of the trial court holding that petitioner could not invoke the doctrine of res ipsa loquitor because she had no expert testimony or proof of evidence.

A Petition for Review was filed with the Arkansas Supreme Court. It was denied.

OPINIONS BELOW

The unreported order denying the petition for review is reprinted in the Appendix ("App.") at A. The Arkansas Court of Appeals unpublished opinion is reprinted in App. B.

JURISDICTION

The Arkansas Court of Appeals affirmed order for summary judgment on October 4, 2006. A Petition for Review was filed with the Arkansas Supreme Court October 23, 2006 pursuant to Article II, Rules of the Arkansas Supreme Court and Court of Appeals, Rule 2-4 (c) Grounds for review (ii) the Court of Appeals rendered a decision which is in conflict with a prior holding of a published opinion of either the Supreme Court or the Court of Appeals. The petition for review was denied on November 16, 2006.

This court has jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2101 (c) and pursuant to U. S. Supreme Court Rule 10 (b).

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

The trial court held that the doctrine of res ipsa loquitor did not apply to medical malpractice cases; that there was absence of evidence to the contrary that an injury occurred; that the burden of proof was not met: and there was no expert testimony, Record ("R") R 370, Line 3-25, despite responses to interrogatories and admissions opposing the motion for summary judgment. ("Appendix") App.D& F.

An appeal was filed with the Arkansas Court of Appeals alleging that the trial court erred granting summary judgment when a material fact was left to be litigated; that reasonable minds could differ as to the interpretation of facts as shown by the pleadings; that the right to invoke the doctrine of res ipsa loquitor was denied; and that the defendant's expert witness' affidavit was inconsistent with the evidence presented in support of summary judgment. R 27-30. The Arkansas Court of Appeals affirmed the trial courts decision. App. B.

A Petition for review was then filed with the Arkansas Supreme Court. App. C. The Petition for Review was denied. App. A.

REASONS FOR GRANTING THE WRIT

This court should grant certiorari for three reasons: the decision below leaves unresolved conflict with this Court and other courts; this Court's guidance is needed to answer a question of exceptional importance; to prevent a miscarriage of justice and to ensure that the Court of Appeals does not remain in conflict with other courts.

I. THE DECISION BELOW LEAVES THE COURT OF APPEALS IN CONFLICT WITH PRIOR HOLDINGS OF THAT COURT AND OTHER U.S. COURTS

The Arkansas Supreme Court's decision leaves unresolved conflict with the Court of Appeals and other court's interpretation and application of the doctrine of res ipsa loquitor as well as this court's interpretation of Rule 56 (c) and (e) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. The decision below leaves the Court of Appeals without guidance when they affirmed a decision that conflicts with precedents already established by that court.

A. The Decision Below Leaves the Court of Appeals in Conflict With Other Courts Interpretation of the Doctrine of Res Ipsa Loquitor Holding that No Direct Proof is Necessary to Invoke the Doctrine of Res Ipsa Loquitor

The Arkansas Supreme Court's decision to deny review leaves the Court of Appeals in conflict with other court's holding that the doctrine of res ipsa loquitur exists to obviate the need for direct proof of negligence, and allows cases submitted under the doctrine to proceed to the jury even in the absence of direct proof of negligence. See Graham v. Thompson, 854 S.W.2d 797, 799 (Mo.App. W.D. 1993)

B. The Decision Below Allows The Court of Appeals to Depart From Prior Precedents of the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Summary judgment is not proper where evidence, although in no material dispute as to actuality, reveals aspects from which inconsistent hypothesis may reasonably be drawn and reasonable might defer. Johnson v. Harrywell Inc., 47 Ark. App. 61, 885 S.W.2d 25 (1994).

Expert testimony is often necessary to establish the requisite standard of care. There are, however, many instances where it is not essential. The test of whether expert testimony is required was stated by the Court in Haase v. Starnes, 323 Ark. 263, 268, 915 S.W.2d 675, 677-78 (1996):

"Our law is well-settled that expert testimony is required only when the asserted negligence does not lie within the jury's comprehension as a matter of common knowledge, when the standard of care is not a matter of common knowledge, and when the jury must have the assistance of experts to decide the issue of negligence."

Examples of circumstances where expert opinion was not required are (proceeding with removal of ovary without locating the ureter); Lanier v. Trammell, 207 Ark. 372, 180 S.W.2d 818 (1944) a (failure to sterilize surgical instrument); and Jeanes v. Milner, 428 F.2d 598 (8th Cir. 1970) (failure to send tissue slides for laboratory examination). Other examples of where expert testimony would not be required, such as failure to remove a sponge before closing an operative wound, or allowing gauze to remain in a wound while it healed, are discussed in Lanier v. Trammel, supra, which is recognized as the fountainhead decision on this issue.

Expert testimony is not required when the applicable standard of care is not disputed, McClain v. Giles, 271 Ark. 176, 607 S.W.2d 416 (1980)

Res ipsa loquitur is, under appropriate facts, applicable in health care provider cases. Schmidt v. Gibbs, 305 Ark. 383, 807 S.W.2d 928 (1991).

Watts v. St. Edward Mercy Medical Center, 74 Ark. App. 406, 49 S.W.2d 149 (2001), held that expert testimony was not needed to support appellant's argument of pain because her medical records provided support for the claim.

C. The Decision Below Leaves the Court of Appeals in Conflict With this Court's Interpretation of Rule 56 (e) of The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

The Arkansas Supreme Court's decision to deny Petition for Review leaves the Court of Appeals in conflict with this Court holding that Rule 56(e) permits a proper summary judgment motion to be opposed by any kind of evidentiary materials listed in Rule 56 (c) except the mere pleadings. Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 325 (1986).

II. This Court's Guidance is Needed On A Question of Exceptional Importance.

Who and/or what defines the word (s) 'thing' and 'instrumentality' when invoking the doctrine of res ipsa loquitor?

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, the petition for writ of certiorari should be granted

Respectfully submitted,

ARKANSAS COURT OF APPEALS
No. CA06-44

Opinion Delivered October 4, 2006

APPELLANT

APPEAL FROM THE JEFFERSON COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT [NO. CV2002-516-2-5]

HON. ROBERT H. WYATT JR. JUDGE

DENNIS W. JACKS, M.D.

APPELLEE

SAM BIRD, Judge

This is the second time this case is before us. Appellant Rhonda Coleman previously appealed from the trial court's decision granting summary judgment in favor of appellee, Dr. Dennis Jacks; however, in an opinion issued on August 31, 2005, we dismissed the appeal. See Coleman v. Jacks, CA05-718 (Ark. App. Aug. 31, 2005). In our previous opinion, we explained that we lacked jurisdiction to hear the appeal because the order being appealed from was not a final order due to the fact that all parties to the action, including several John Doe defendants, had not been dismissed. Id. Rhonda subsequently filed a motion to dismiss the John Doe defendants, which the trial court granted. She has now brought a second appeal.

The history of this case is as follows. On May 31, 2001, Rhonda and her husband, James, filed a complaint against Dr. Jacks, Jefferson Regional Medical Center, South Arkansas Urology, and "John Does, 1-10" as defendants. The complaint was signed by the Coleman's then-attorney, Gail Anderson, and alleged the following facts. On or about June 1, 1999, Rhonda was admitted to Jefferson Regional Medical Center where she underwent a total hysterectomy and "bladder tact." On June 2, 1999, due to undetected blood loss, "Rhonda received a blood transfusion and underwent a second surgical procedure, following which she experienced "several post-operative complications and developments." After she was released from Jefferson Regional Medical Center, Rhonda began to experience "excruciating pain" in her abdominal area and noticed "strong, foul odors" from her urine. She then went to Dr. Jacks and received antibiotic treatment, but continued to experience pain and odor. She was admitted to Jefferson Regional on November 9, 1999 for an "IVP" procedure, although Dr. Jacks did not order any other laboratory tests. According to the complaint, Dr. Jacks falsely informed Rhonda that the IVP results were "fine."

The complaint alleged, among other things, that the defendants were negligent in failing to properly diagnose and treat Rhonda for her post0operative medical problems and complications. Rhonda sought damages for various reasons, while her husband, James, sought damages for "mental anguish" and for "loss of consortium." The complaint also alleged liability of the defendants pursuant to the doctrine of res ipsa loquitor.

Anderson subsequently filed a motion to be relieved as counsel on the basis of nonpayment of fees. The Coleman's' complaint was later dismissed without prejudice for failure to obtain proper service of process under Rule 4(i) of the Arkansas Rules of Civil Procedure.

On May 30, 2002, Rhonda filed a pro se complaint on behalf of herself and her husband James. The complaint was substantially the same as the one previously filed by Anderson one year earlier, but it did not include Southern Arkansas Urology as a defendant. Rhonda subsequently filed an amended complaint on October 18, 2002; a second amended complaint on May 13, 2003; and a third amended complaint on December 1, 2003. The third amended complaint listed Rhonda as the only plaintiff and omitted James's loss of consortium claim.

The trial court granted summary judgment in favor of defendant Jefferson Regional Center on April 22, 2004. Dr. Jacks filed a motion for summary judgment on November 15, 2004, claiming that Rhonda could not meet her burden of proof pursuant to Ark. Code Ann § 16-114-206 without expert testimony. He attached an affidavit of Dr. Alex Finkbeiner, Chairman of the Department of Urology at the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences, in which Dr. Finkbeiner opined that there was no medical evidence to support Rhonda's allegations against Dr. Jacks. In her response to Dr. Jack's summary judgment motion, Rhonda produced no evidence (in the form of affidavits, depositions, correspondence, and the like) to rebut Dr. Finkbeiner's opinion other than to say she intended to subpoena her treating physicians as expert witnesses to corroborate her allegations. The court granted Dr. Jack's motion for summary judgment by order dated December 28, 2004. Rhonda filed her first notice of appeal on January 28, 2005.

Because the John Doe defendants were still parties to the action at the time Rhonda filed her first appeal, this court dismissed the appeal on the basis that she failed to appeal from a final order. See Coleman v. Jacks, supra. Rhonda subsequently filed a motion for voluntary non-suit to dismiss the John Doe defendants, which was granted on September 19, 2005; Rhonda then filed a second notice of appeal on October 19, 2005.

Rhonda contends that the trial court erred by granting summary judgment in favor of Dr. Jacks. Pointing to alleged inconsistencies in the evidence and claiming that Dr. Finkbeiner did not review all of the medical records, Rhonda argues that a question of fact remains regarding proximate cause and allegations of damage, and she asserts that reasonable minds could differ as to the conclusions to be drawn from the facts presented. She also claims that expert testimony was not needed in this case because the matter "lies within the comprehension of a jury of laymen" and "the medical records speak for themselves." Rhonda also argues that she met her burden of establishing the applicability of the doctrine of res ipsa loquitor.

In Mitchell v. Lincoln, __ Ark. __, __, __ S.W.3d __, __ (June 22, 2006), our supreme court stated as follows:

A trial court may grant summary judgment only when it is clear that there are no genuine issues of material fact to be litigated, and that the part is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Harris v. City of Fort Smith, 359 Ark. 355, __ S.W.3d __ (2004). Once the moving party has established a prima facie case showing entitlement to summary judgment, the opposing party must meet proof with proof and demonstrate the existence of a material fact. Young v. Gastro-Intestinal Center, 361 Ark. 209 __ S.W.3d __ (Mar. 24, 2005). On appellate review, we determine if summary judgment was appropriate based on whether the evidentiary items presented by the moving party in support of its motion leave a material fact unanswered. Id. This court views the evidence in a light most favorable to the party, against whom the motion was filed, resolving all doubts and inferences against the moving party. Adams v. Arthur, 333 Ark. 53, 969 S.W.2d (1998).

Under Arkansas law, the burden of proof for a plaintiff in a medical malpractice case is fixed by statue. See [Ark. Code Ann.] § 16-114-206. The statue requires that, in any action for a medical injury, expert testimony is necessary regarding the skill and learning possessed and used by medical care providers engaged in that [specialty] in the same or similar locality. See Young, supra; Williamson v. Elroy, 348 Ark. 307, 72 S.W.3d 489 (2002).

(a) Specifically, the statue provides as follows:

In any action for medical injury, when the asserted negligence does not lie within the jury's comprehension as a matter of common knowledge, the plaintiff shall have the burden of proving:

(1) By means of expert testimony provided only by a medical care provider of the same specialty as the defendant, the degree of skill and learning ordinarily possessed and used by members of the medical care provider in good standing, engaged in the same type of practice or specialty in the locality in which he or she practices or in a similar locality;

(2) By means of expert testimony provided only by a medical care provider of the same specialty as the defendant that the medical care provider failed to act in accordance with that standard; and

(3) By means of expert testimony provided only by a qualified medical expert that as a proximate result thereof the injured person suffered injuries that would not otherwise have occurred.

The court in Mitchell also discussed the issue of when expert Testimony was required in a medical malpractice case, stating:

The vast majority of our cases to have considered this issue hold that expert medical testimony is necessary because the alleged medical negligence is not within the comprehension of a jury of laymen. See Fryar v. Touchstone Physical Therapy, __ Ark. __, __ S.W.3d __ (Feb. 16, 2006) (connection between preexisting neck and spine injuries and alleged injuries caused by an unlicensed chiropractor's treatment "would not be a matter of common knowledge or understanding"); Eady v. Lunsford, 351 Ark. 249, 92 S.W.2d 57 (2002) (expert testimony required to rebut defense testimony regarding whether a physician has a duty to inform a patient about rare side effects of a medication); Skaggs v. Johnson, supra (medical decision to leave a piece of drainage tube in a patient's leg, as opposed to an inadvertent leaving of objects in a patient's body, presented an issue outside the jury's common knowledge and required expert testimony); Robson v. Tinnin, supra (matters relating to the changing of dental implants and treatment of fractured teeth are not matters of common knowledge); Davis v. Kemp, supra (whether it was proper or improper on a first medical visit to irrigate a wound and administer antibiotics was not a matter of common knowledge, and the failure to find a piece of glass on the first visit would hinge upon whether or not good medical practice required the probing of the wound on the first visit); but cf. Watts v. St. Edward Mercy Medical Center, 74 Ark. App. 406, 49 S.W.3d 149 (2001) (no need to provide expert testimony on the issue of whether a broken hip can cause pain).__Ark. At __, __ S.W. 3d at __.

In the case at bar, Rhonda failed to produce any evidence (in the form of affidavits, depositions, correspondence, and the like) in response to Dr. Jack's summary-judgment motion. The fact that she indicated that she would produce expert testimony at some point is insufficient; she failed to meet "proof with proof" as required by law and, thus, there was no genuine issue of material fact for trial.

As for Rhonda's argument that she has established the applicability of the doctrine of res ipsa loquitor, in Schmidt v. Gibbs, 305 Ark. 383, 387, 807 S.W.2d 928, 931 (1991), a wrongful-death medical malpractice case, our supreme court set forth those circumstances in which the doctrine of res ipsa loquitor may be invoked:

1. The defendant owes a duty to the plaintiff to use due care;
2. The accident is caused by the thing or instrumentality under the control of the defendant;
3. The accident which caused the injury is one that, in the ordinary course of things would not occur if those having control and management of the instrumentality used proper care;

There is an absence of the evidence to the contrary.

In Schmidt, the court explained that, if each of the elements for the application of the doctrine of res ipsa loquitor is present, then the accident from which the injury is prima facie evidence of negligence and shifts to the defendant the burden of proving that it was not caused through any lack of care on its part. Id.

In attempting to bring her case within the gambit of the doctrine of res ipsa loquitor, Rhonda argues that her evidence satisfies the requirements of Schmidt, asserting that "dr. Jacks is the 'instrument' or 'thing' that caused the bleeding" and that led to her subsequent medical problems, and argues that Webster Dictionary includes "an individual" within its definition of a "thing'; however, she fails to cite any other authority to support this assertion. Furthermore, she fails to explain how the facts of this case relate to the other three elements that must be present to invoke the doctrine of res ipsa loquitor. Because this argument is not well taken, we need not address it on appeal. See Rainey v. Hartness, 339 Ark. 293, 304, 5 S.W.3d 410, 418 (19990 (stating that an appellate court will not consider assertions of error that ere unsupported by convincing legal authority or argument, unless it is apparent without further research that the argument is well-taken).

For these reasons, we hold that the trial court did not err in granting summary judgment for Dr. Jacks.

PETITION for REVIEW

Pursuant Article II, Rules of the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals Rule 2-4, (c) (ii) Petitions for Review, Petitioner Rhonda Coleman respectfully petitions this Court to review the October 4, 2006, unpublished opinion of the Court of Appeal (Division III) affirming summary judgment for Dr. Dennis W. Jacks, M.D. A copy of the decision is attached.

ISSUES PRESENTED FOR REVIEW

Whether expert testimony is necessary in a medical malpractice case when the applicable standard of care is a matter of common knowledge? Whether summary judgment is appropriate when Appellant's responses to discovery are evidence that creates a question of fact on the issues of negligence and proximate cause?

WHY REVIEW SHOULD BE GRANTED

I. REVIEW SHOULD BE GRANTED TO RESOLVE CONFLICTS BETWEEN THE DECISION RENDERED BY THE COURT OF APPEALS AND PRIOR HOLDING OF PUBLISHED OPINIONS OF THE COURT OF APPEALS AND THE SUPREME COURT.....

1. Summary judgment is only approved when the state of the evidence as portrayed by the pleadings, affidavits, discovery responses, and admissions on file is such that the non-moving party is not entitled to a day in court. Guidry v. Harp's Food Stores, Inc., 66 Ark. App. 93, 987 S.W.2d 755 (1999). Flentje v. First Nat'l Bank Of Wynne, 340 Ark. 563, 11 S.W.3d 531 (2000). Shelton v. Fiser, 340 Ark. 89, 95-96, 8 S.W.3d 557, 561 (2000) (citing Adams v. Arthur, 333 Ark. At 62, 969 S.W.2d at 605).

2. Expert testimony is not required in medical malpractice cases when the asserted negligence lies within the comprehension of a jury of laymen, such as a surgeon's failure to sterilize his instruments or to remove a sponge from an incision before closing it. Eady v. Lansford, 351 Ark. 249, 92 S.W.3d 57 (2002). Lanier v. Trammell, 207 Ark. 372, 180 S.W.2d 818 (1944). Watts v. St. Edward Mercy Medical Center, 74 Ark. App. 406, 49 S.W.3d 149 (2001).

3. The plaintiff must present expert testimony only when the asserted negligence does not lie within the jury's comprehension as a matter of common knowledge, when the applicable standard of care is not a matter of common knowledge, and when the jury must have the assistance of experts to decide the issue of negligence. Haase v. Starnes, 323 Ark. 263, 915 S.W.2d 675 (1996). Robson v. Tinnin, 322 Ark. 605, 911 S.W.2d 246 (1995) (citing Prater v. St. Paul Ins. Co., 293 Ark. 547, 793 S.W.2d676 (1987)).

4. It does not automatically follow that the moving part is entitled to summary judgment simply because no affidavits were filed in response to a motion. Muddiman v. Wall, 33 Ark. App. 175, 803 S.W.2d 945 (1991).

Plaintiff intends to subpoena Dr. Steven Wright and Dr. Gail Reede Jones as treating physicians to corroborate Plaintiffs' allegations that acts and/or omissions of Defendant, Dennis W. Jacks, M.D., constitute medical negligence regarding Dr. Jacks' care and treatment of Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman. R 102.

REQUEST FOR ADMISSION NO. 2: Admit that you have not identified in discovery, nor do you intend to call as a witness at trial, any physician expert that will testify to support any allegations of Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, that any alleged acts and/or omissions by Dr. Jacks in his care and treatment of Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, were a proximate cause of any injuries or damages suffered by Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman. R 102.

RESPONSE NO. 2: Plaintiff denies admission. Plaintiff admits that she has not identified in discovery. Plaintiff denies that she does not intend to call as witnesses physicians expert that will support any allegations of Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, that any alleged acts and/or omissions by Dr. Jacks in his care and treatment of Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, were a proximate cause of any injuries or damages suffered by Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman. Plaintiff intends to subpoena Dr. Steven Wright and Dr. Gail Reede Jones to corroborate her allegations. R 102-103.

REQUEST FOR ADMISSION NO. 3: Admit that none of the treating physicians of Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, including, but not limited to, Steven Wright, M.D., and Gail Reede Jones, M.D., will be called at trial as expert witnesses on behalf of Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, to testify in support of any allegations by Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, that Defendant, Dennis W. Jacks, M.D., was negligent in his care and treatment of Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, and that such negligence was a proximate cause of any injuries or damages to Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman. R 103.

RESPONSE NO. 3: Plaintiff denies admission. Plaintiff admits that she will subpoena both Dr. Steven Wright and Dr. Gail Reede Jones to corroborate her allegations that Dr. Jacks was negligent in his care and treatment of Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman and that such negligence was a proximate cause of injuries or damages to Plaintiff. R 103.

REPLY BRIEF IN OPPOSITION TO MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT FOR DEFENDANT, DENNIS W. JACKS, M.D.

Comes, now Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, with my response in Opposition to Motion of Summary Judgment for Defendant Dennis W. Jacks, M.D., which states: R 298.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

Plaintiff was initially seen by Defendant Dennis W. Jacks,

FILED
NOV 22 2004

JEANETTE HENCE
Circuit Clerk
JEFFERSON COUNTY, ARKANSAS
"s/Brenda Hardin, DC

M.D. ("Dr. Jacks"), on April 16, 1999 after being referred to him by Dr. Sterling Roaf, OB/GYN for urinary incontinence. Dr Jacks recommended to Plaintiff that she have a hysterectomy along with bladder repair. R 298.

On June 1, 1999 surgery was performed on Plaintiff by Dr. Sterling Roaf, M.D., and Dr. Dennis Jacks, M.D. Plaintiff was hospitalized from June 1, 1999 through June 7, 1999. While hospitalized at Jefferson Regional Medical Center, Plaintiff had severe bleeding requiring blood transfusions and an emergency surgery on June 2, 1999. Plaintiff also experienced other complications and was overdosed with a nephrotoxic drug. Plaintiff was not informed by either medical care provider prior to or after the emergency surgery as to her medical condition. R 298.

Shortly after being discharged Plaintiff began to have painful urination. According to medical records from Dr. Jacks, Plaintiff had multiple complaints of painful urination in the month of June 1999 after her surgery she was treated by him for an infection. Other than a urinalysis and urine culture no other test were done by Defendant. R 298.

Medical records from Dr. Jacks indicate that Plaintiff was seen June 1999 and again by Dr. Jacks for a follow up appointment on July 27, 1999 after her surgery and was advised to return to his office as needed. R 299.

In November 2000, at the suggestion of her primary physician, Plaintiff was advised to go back to Dr. Jacks for complaints of flank pain and for problems with urination since he had performed her bladder surgery. R 299.

Plaintiff was seen again by Dr. Jacks on November 7, 2000 for complaints of having blood and nitrite in her urine, and flank pain. Defendant insisted that Plaintiff was experiencing pain from irritable bowel syndrome, even though Plaintiff insisted that she had been experiencing flank pain. Defendant's office staff scheduled Plaintiff for an IVP with contrast for November 9. Plaintiff was given an instruction sheet for a bowel prep and advised that Dr. Jacks would call her after he got the results. Defendant failed to order test to check Plaintiffs' kidney functions prior to this procedure exposing her to a nephrotoxic agent. Plaintiff was notified by Dr. Jacks by phone a few days later that the IVP was normal and that she should just drink plenty of water and take her medicine for Irritable Bowel Syndrome. R 299.

Plaintiff continued to experience flank pain and continued to have problems with urination, so she requested that her primary physician refer her to a kidney specialist. It was after this referral that Plaintiff was advised that she had a possible kidney stone then later told that she had a blood clot to her kidney and would have to be on antibiotics indefinitely. R 299.

ARGUMENT

a. Plaintiff invokes the theory of res ipsa loquitor

Plaintiff is invoking the theory of res ipsa loquitor. Opinion delivered by the Arkansas Court of Appeals March 22, 2000 expressly holds that in order to submit a res ipsa loquitor theory to the fact-finder, the plaintiff must establish four elements: (1) the defendant owed a duty to the plaintiff to use due care; (2) the R 299-300. accident was caused by a thing "or" instrumentality under the control of the defendant; (3) the accident that caused the injury is one that, in the ordinary course of things, would not have occurred if those having control and management of the instrumentality had used proper care; and (4) there is an absence of evidence to the contrary; it is essential that the harm-causing instrumentality be under the exclusive control of the defendant. When each of the elements of res ipsa loquitor is present, the burden shifts to the defendant to prove that the injury was not caused through any lack of care on its part. Baker v. Clark, 322 Ark, 702 S.W.3d (2000). R 300.

The courts have also held, however, that expert testimony is not necessary per se in every medical malpractice case. The law is well-settled that expert testimony is required only when the asserted negligence does not lie within the jury's comprehension as a matter of common knowledge, when the applicable standard of care is not a matter of common knowledge, and when the jury must have the assistance of experts to decide the issue of negligence. Robson v. Tinnin, 322 Ark. 605, 911 S.W.2d 246 (1995) (citing Prater v. St. Paul Ins. Co., 293 Ark. 547, 739 S.W.2d 676 (1987)). To emphasize that expert testimony is not required in every medical-malpractice case per se, the court in Hasse v. Starnes, M.D., 323 Ark. 263, 915 S.W.2d 675 (1996) repeated a statement from Graham v. Sisco, 248 Ark. 6, 449 S.W.2d 949 (1970), that was quoted in Davis v. Kemp, 252 Ark. 925, 481 S.W.2d 712 (1972): R 300.

An expert is not needed to support Plaintiffs' allegations that she has suffered pain since November 2000. The medical records of the Plaintiff speak for itself. It is documented that Plaintiff has complained of pain since November 2000. R 300.

b. Plaintiff sustained a medical injury

"Medical injury" is defined under the Medical Malpractice Act at Ark. Code Ann. § 16-114-201(3) (1987) as "any adverse consequences arising out of or sustained in the course of the professional services being rendered by a medical care provider, whether resulting from negligence, error, or omission in the performance of such services; ...or from failure to diagnose, ...or otherwise arising out of or sustained in the course of such services. R 299.

(1) The Defendant owed a duty to the Plaintiff to use due care. (2) the accident was caused by a thing "or" instrumentality under the control of the defendant; (3) the accident that caused the injury is one that, in the ordinary course of things, would not have occurred if those having control and management of the instrumentality had used proper care; and (4) there is an absence of evidence to the contrary; it is essential that the harm-causing instrumentality be under the exclusive control of the defendant. R 301.

c. Defendant is not entitled to a summary judgment

Summary judgment should be granted only when it is clear that there are no disputed issues of material fact. Porter v.Harshfield, 329 Ark. 130, 948 S.W.2d 83 (1997). The burden of sustaining a motion for summary judgment is always the responsibility of the moving party. Tullock v. Eck, 311 Ark. 564, 845 S.W.2d 517 (1993). All proof submitted must be viewed in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party, and any doubts or inferences must be resolved against the moving party. Pastchol v. St. Paul Fire & Marine Co., 326 Ark. 140, 929 S.W.2d 713 (1996). R 301.

The Plaintiffs' medical records clearly reflect that she has complained of flank pain and problems with urination since November 9, 2000. Documentation in the medical records of Plaintiff stated that she had a blood clot to her kidney. R 302.

Plaintiff intends to subpoena her treating physicians as expert witnesses to corroborate her allegations against the Defendant. Plaintiff has evidence in her medical records to substantiate her allegations against the Defendant. R 305.

The Defendants expert witness opinions are not specifically supported by all of Plaintiffs' medical records. Defendants Exhibit "P" titled Medical Records Of Rhonda Coleman Reviewed By Alex Finkbeiner, M.D., don't contain all copies of Plaintiffs' hospital records. It contains hand picked records. There is substantial relevant evidence documented in Plaintiffs' hospital medical records to substantiate Plaintiffs' allegations against the Defendant. R 305.

FOR THE DEFENDANT HONORABLE RICHARD L. ANGEL

Little Rock, AR 72202-2213

MR. ANGEL: The other issue being raised by Ms. Coleman, which I'll also address this morning, your Honor, is the fact that Ms. Coleman is of the belief in her pro se capacity that the legal doctrine of res ipsa loquitor applies to this case and that she can invoke such a doctrine. R 358 Lines 16-20.

THE COURT: Accordingly, the main thing that – one of the main things that I am basing the summary judgment motion that I'm going to approve on is what Mr. Angel just said. The law requires that when a motion for summary judgment is filed then the defendant or opposing party must meet proof with proof. That doesn't mean just coming in and saying something. You've got to file something showing that what he said is wrong. You've not done that. There is no proof whatsoever in here that everything he said in his motion for summary judgment is not exactly true. Because there is nothing to the contrary other than the statements which you have made and that's not proof in the record. So I have to have proof.

Res ipsa loquitor doctrine does not apply in these type cases. So that is denied. R 370, lines 3-18.

INTRODUCTION

This medical negligence case involves an individual, Rhonda Coleman, who is also a Registered Nurse that has been seeking justice for the past 7 years, for acts of negligence that was committed against her.

This case involves multiple acts of negligence that occurred while under a continuous course of treatments that began April 16,1999 and ended November 7, 2000. Appendix ("App."), App. E.

This Petition for Rehearing is not meant to reargue that which is in the Petition for a Writ of Certiorari that was denied on September 24, 2007, but to address substantial grounds that were not previously presented.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

The Arkansas Court of Appeals affirmed the decision of the trial court granting a Summary Judgment for the Respondent October 4, 2006. A Petition for Review was filed with the Arkansas Supreme Court on October 23, 2006. It was denied on November 16, 2006. A Writ of Certiorari was filed the United States Supreme Court February 20, 2007. It was denied on September 24, 2007.

ARGUMENT

I. DUE PROCESS WAS DENIED WHEN THE ARKANSAS SUPREME COURT FAILED TO REVIEW THE DECISION OF THE COURT OF APPEALS DECISION

A. The Court of Appeals Affirmed The Trial Court Even Though They Violated Arkansas and Federal Rule of Civil Procedure and Violated Rules of Professional Conduct.

Rule 12(a). Defenses and Objections—When and How Presented—By Pleading or Motion—Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings of the Arkansas and Federal Rules of Civil Procedure states: that a defendant shall serve an answer within 20 days after being served with summons and complaint.

A Complaint was filed against Respondent and others, alleging medical negligence in the Circuit Court of Jefferson County, Arkansas on May 31, 2001 seeking damages for pain and suffering. Record("R") 3-8, App I. The attorney of record later filed a Motion To Be Relieved. R 9-10. App. J. An Order of Dismissal was granted October 9, 2001 without prejudice but, the Judge stated that it was dismissed for failure to obtain service R. 11, App. K even though the Certificate of Service certifies that a copy of the pleading had been sent by U.S. mail by certified and restricted delivery to all opposing parties and the clerk signed that a summons was issued at 1:30 pm on the day it was filed. R. 3, 8, App. I.

That Judge has since been removed from the bench for unprofessional conduct in other matters.

This dismissal was an involuntary dismissal and pursuant to Rule 41(b) of the Arkansas Rules of Civil Procedure Dismissal of actions, a dismissal under this subdivision is without prejudice to a future action.

The Complaint filed by attorney Gail Anderson May 31, 2001 by law, tolled the statue of limitations.

Rule 3. Commencement of Action of the Arkansas Rules of Civil Procedure states: that if the action is dismissed, it was nonetheless commenced for statute of limitations purposes and may be refilled within one year under the savings statute, Ark. Code Ann. § 16-56-126. See Forrest City Machine Works v. Lyons, 315 Ark. 173, 866 S.W.2d 372 (1993) (savings statute is applicable when action is dismissed for insufficient service of process).

The Respondent's Answer was not filed until October 4, 2002. R. 18-23, App. L. He asserted that Petitioner's allegations and claims were barred by the applicable statue of limitations codified at Ark. Code Ann. §16-114-203 because of failure to obtain service although the certificate of service and the signature of the circuit clerk stated otherwise. R. 3, 8, App. I. No other Defendant made that assertion.

B. The Court Of Appeals and the Trial Court Acted in a Manner That Violated Professional Conduct When They Totally Ignored The Order Set By Trial Court And Sworn Statements Already In The Record.

The Order from the status hearing held by the Trial Court on October 20, 2004 stated that responses to discovery would be on or before Friday, November 26, 2004. R. 94-95, App. H.

The trial court stated in its Order granting Summary Judgment that Rhonda Coleman failed to timely identify any expert witness that would testify in support of Plaintiff's allegations prior to the Court's deadline of October 27, 2004. R. 316, App. B even though there were sworn statements in Notarized Brief Opposing Summary Judgment and Supplemental Responses to Interrogatories and Production of Documents stating that treating physician's would be subpoenaed. R. 282, 305, App. D.

Sworn responses to Admissions were faxed and filed on November 22, 2004 admitting that treating physician's would be subpoenaed as expert witnesses. R. 102-104, App. C.

The Respondent in his Brief In Support For Summary Judgment stated that Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman could not and did not intend to use expert testimony to support her allegations of medical negligence against Dr. Jacks R. 126, App. F even though the record already contained sworn statements in Responses to Request for Admissions that stated otherwise. R. 102-104, App. C.

The Arkansas Court of Appeals stated that "Rhonda failed to produce any evidence (in the form of affidavits, depositions, correspondence, and the like) in response to Dr. Jacks' Summary Judgment motion," regardless to sworn statements already in the record App. A.

Notarized Supplemental Responses to Separate Defendant Dennis W. Jacks Interrogatories and Request for Production of Documents were faxed to the Defendant's Attorney on October 27, 2004 R. 296-97, App. D. Response to Interrogatory 2: which stated "please give the names, addresses, occupations, and telephone numbers of all persons known or believed by you or your attorneys to possess information regarding the matters alleged in your Complaint." My responses listed the names of my treating physicians Dr. Steven Wright and Dr. Gayle Reede-Jones as well as other's as possessing information regarding matters alleged in Complaint. R. 282, App. D.

Interrogatory 8: stated please state whether you will present any documentary at the trial of this matter. If your answer is affirmative, please state:

(a) The identity of the documents;
(b) The facts and /or opinions to be presented or described by the documents; and
(c) The custodian of said documents.

Response: Yes R. 287-288, App. D.
These were all sworn notarized statements

Rule 56 (e) of the Arkansas and the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure implies that a Summary Judgments motion may be opposed by any of the evidentiary materials listed in Rule 56 © such as answers to interrogatories.

Ark. Code §16-40-103. states in part:
Modes of taking testimony of witnesses
The testimony of witnesses is taken in three (3) modes:

(1) By affidavit;
(2) By deposition;
(3) By oral examination

(b) An affidavit is a written declaration under oath, made without notice to the adverse party.

In McLaughlin v. Liu, 849 F.2d 1205, 1207-08 (9th Cir. 1988), a district court's summary judgment in favor of the plaintiff was reversed where the court disregarded the defendant's sworn declaration and sworn answers to interrogatories as "implausible.

II. WHEN THE ARKANSAS SUPREME COURT FAILED TO REVIEW THE COURT OF APPEALS DECISION PETITIONER'S 7th AMENDMENT WAS VIOLATED.

C. The Order Granting Summary Judgment Was Unjustified.

The Motion for Summary Judgment was prematurely filed and unjustifiably granted. App. G.

The Standard for Entry of Summary Judgment

A moving part, as a prerequisite of summary judgment, must demonstrate an absence of evidence to support the non-moving party's case. Celotex v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 325 (1986). Rule 56(e) of the Arkansas Rules of Civil Procedure states, in part, the following:

> "When a motion for summary judgment is made and supported as provided in this rule, an adverse party may not rest upon the mere allegation or denials of his pleadings, but his response, by affidavits or as otherwise provided in this rule, must set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue for trial ...

Sworn statements that were already in the record reveal aspects from which inconsistent hypothesis may reasonably be drawn and reasonable men might defer.

III. CONCLUSION

The Arkansas Supreme Court's failure to review the decision of the Court of Appeals is a gross miscarriage of justice.

Based on the foregoing, to ensure that due process right are not violated and to prevent a miscarriage of justice, Petitioner request that her Petition for rehearing be granted.

Respectfully submitted.

Dr. Alex Finkbeiner, Chairman of the Department of Urology at the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences, in which Dr. Finkbeiner opined that there was no medical evidence to support Rhonda's allegations against Dr. Jacks. In her response to Dr. Jack's summary judgment motion, Rhonda produced no evidence (in the form of affidavits, depositions, correspondence, and the like) to rebut Dr. Finkbeiner's opinion other than to say she intended to supoena her treating physician's as expert witnesses to corroborate her allegations.

In the case at bar, Rhonda failed to produce any evidence (in the form of affidavits, depositions, correspondence, and the like) in response to Dr. Jack's summary-judgment motion. The fact that she indicated that she would produce expert testimony at some point is insufficient; she failed to meet "proof with proof" as required by law and, thus, there was no genuine issue of material fact for trial.

REPLY BRIEF IN OPPOSITION TO MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT FOR DEFENDANT, DENNIS W. JACKS, M.D.

Comes, now Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, with my response in Opposition to Motion of Summary Judgment for Defendant Dennis W. Jacks, M.D., which states:

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

Plaintiff was initially seen by Defendant Dennis W. Jacks,

FILED
NOV 22 2004
JEANETTE HENCE
Circuit Clerk
JEFFERSON COUNTY, ARKANSAS
"s/Brenda Hardin, DC

M.D. ("Dr. Jacks"), on April 16, 1999 after being referred to him by Dr. Sterling Roaf, OB/GYN for urinary incontinence. Dr Jacks recommended to Plaintiff that she have a hysterectomy along with bladder repair. R 298, App. E.

Medical records from Dr. Jacks indicate that Plaintiff was seen June 1999 and again by Dr. Jacks for a follow up appointment on July 27, 1999 after her surgery and was advised to return to his office as needed. R 299, App. E.

In November 2000, at the suggestion of her primary physician, Plaintiff was advised to go back to Dr. Jacks for complaints of flank pain and for problems with urination since he had performed her bladder surgery. R 299. App. E.

Plaintiff was seen again by Dr. Jacks on November 7, 2000 for complaints of having blood and nitrite in her urine, and flank pain. Defendant insisted that Plaintiff was experiencing pain from irritable bowel syndrome, even though Plaintiff insisted that she had been experiencing flank pain.

Defendant failed to order test to check Plaintiffs' kidney functions prior to this procedure exposing her to a nephrotoxic agent. Plaintiff was notified by Dr. Jacks by phone a few days later that the IVP was normal and that she should just drink plenty of water and take her medicine for Irritable Bowel Syndrome.

Plaintiff continued to experience flank pain and continued to have problems with urination, so she requested that her primary physician refer her to a kidney specialist. It was after this referral that Plaintiff was advised that she had a possible kidney stone then later told that she had a blood clot to her kidney and would have to be on antibiotics indefinitely. R 299, App. E.

An expert is not needed to support Plaintiffs' allegations that she has suffered pain since November 2000. The medical records of the Plaintiff speak for itself. It is documented that Plaintiff has complained of pain since November 2000. R 300, App. E

The Plaintiffs' medical records clearly reflect that she has complained of flank pain and problems with urination since November 9, 2000. Documentation in the medical records of Plaintiff stated that she had a blood clot to her kidney. R 302, App.E.

Plaintiff intends to subpoena her treating physicians as expert witnesses to corroborate her allegations against the Defendant. Plaintiff has evidence in her medical records to substantiate her allegations against the Defendant. R 305, App.E

The Defendant's expert witness' opinions are not specifically supported by all of Plaintiffs' medical records. Defendants Exhibit "P" titled Medical Records of Rhonda Coleman Reviewed By Alex Finkbeiner, M.D., don't contain all copies of Plaintiffs' hospital records. It contains hand picked records. There is substantial relevant evidence documented in Plaintiffs' hospital medical records to substantiate Plaintiffs' allegations against the Defendant. R 305, App. E.

CONCLUSION

Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, cannot produce an expert witness and does not intend to use testimony to support her allegations of medical negligence against Dr. Jacks. Further, Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, cannot produce an expert witness and does not intend to to use expert testimony to support contentions that any of her alleged damages or injuries were proximately caused by any negligent act or omission by Dr. Jacks. Without expert testimony, Plaintiff cannot meet her burden of proof in this medical negligence case. The medical issues in this case are clearly not within the comprehension of a jury of lay persons. The alleged failure to diagnose medical conditions and treat those conditions require expert witnesses to assist the jury in understanding the applicable standard of care for medical providers. If plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, was allowed to proceed to trial against Dr. Jacks, a jury would be left to speculate as to the applicable standard of care to apply to Dr .Jacks and whether any of Plaintiff's alleged damages or injuries were caused by the alleged negligence of Dr. Jacks. Further, Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, should not be allowed to invoke the doctrine of res ipsa loquitur since Dr. Jacks has produced "evidence to the contrary" through an expert witness. R.126, App. F.

Since Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, cannot present the requisite proof on the essential elements of her claims against Dr. Jacks, then there are no remaining issues of material fact. As such, summary judgment is appropriate, and dr. Jacks respectfully request that the Court summarily dismiss with prejudice all of Plaintiff's causes of action against him.

MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT ON BEHALF OF DEFENDANT, DENNIS W. JACKS, M.D.

Comes now Defendant, Dennis W. Jacks, M.D., by and through his attorney, Richard L. Angel, Angel Law Firm, PLLC, and for his Motion for Summary Judgment, pursuant to Rule 56 of the Arkansas Rules of Civil Procedure, states as follows:

1. On May 31, 2001, Plaintiffs, Rhonda Coleman and James Coleman, through their attorney, Gail Anderson, Anderson Law Firm, Little Rock, Arkansas, filed their Complaint against Separate Defendant, Dennis W. Jacks, M.D., (hereafter "Dr. Jacks") and other Defendants. (Attached hereto as Exhibit "A" is a copy R. 105, App.

G.

of Plaintiffs' Complaint filed on May 31, 2001.)

2. In Plaintiffs' Complaint filed on May 31, 2001, Plaintiffs asserted claims for medical negligence against Dr. Jacks and other medical care providers. In Plaintiffs' Complaint, more specifically, Paragraph 5 and 6, plaintiffs made allegations against Dr. Jacks and other medical care providers related to medical events occurring on Junel, 1999, June 2, 1999, and up through November 9, 1999.

3. On September 20, 2001, Plaintiffs' counsel, Gail Anderson, Anderson Law Firm, filed a Motion To Be Relieved. In paragraph 6 of Ms. Anderson's Motion To Be Relieved, Ms. Anderson requested to be relieved as Plaintiffs' counsel due to "non-responsiveness" and non-payment" by plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, and because "it is abundantly clear that Plaintiff never intended to pay undersigned but instead simply sought an attorney to file her papers for her." R. 105, App. G.

4.Plaintiffs, Rhonda and James Coleman, did not serve Dr. Jacks with a Summons and Plaintiffs' Complaint within 120 days of Filing of Plaintiffs' Complaint as required by Rule 4 of R. 105, App the Arkansas Ruled of Civil Procedure. The 120th day to properly effectuate service on defendant Jacks and the other named Defendants was September 28, 2001. Prior to September 28, 2001, Plaintiffs, Rhonda Coleman and James Coleman, did not request an extension of time from the Court to obtain timely and proper service of process on Dr. Jacks and the other named Defendants.

5. On October 9, 2001, the Court entered an Order of Dismissal. In the Order, the Court stated, "that pursuant to Rule 4(i) of the Arkansas Rules of Civil Procedure, the Complaint filed May 31, 2001 is hereby dismissed without prejudice for failure to obtain service."

6. On May 30, 2002, Plaintiffs, Rhonda Coleman and James Coleman, filed their Complaint against Dr. Jacks and other named Defendants. Plaintiff, Rhonda Coleman, filed this Complaint in her pro se capacity. R.106, App. G.

7. On October 4, 2002, Dr. Jacks, through his attorney, filed his Answer to Plaintiffs' Complaint. Defendant Jacks denied any and all allegations of medical malpractice asserted by Plaintiffs and further asserted that Plaintiffs' allegations and claims for damages were barred by the applicable statue of limitations codified at Ark. Code Ann.§16-114-203.

8. On October 18, 2002, Plaintiffs' filed their Amended Complaint. R. 106 107, App. G.
